COLTS DROP FIRST AND TIE SECOND

Two Great Crowds Witness Morning and Afternoon Games at Park.

HOOKEER IS THE HERO

Saves Lynchburg from Defeat by Sensational Catch—Still Figures as Batter.

VIRGINIA LEAGUE.

Yesterday's Results. At Richmond: First game—Lynchburg, 5; Richmond, 2; second game—Richmond, 4; Lynchburg, 4 (ten innings). At Roanoke: First game—Roanoke, 5; Danville, 4; second game—Danville, 5; Roanoke, 2. At Portsmouth: First game—Portsmouth, 8; Norfolk, 1. At Norfolk: Second game—Portsmouth, 6; Norfolk, 1.

Today's Games.

Table with 5 columns: Clubs, W, L, P.C. Rows include Danville, Roanoke, Richmond, Lynchburg, Portsmouth, Norfolk.

It was all Richmond could do yesterday before two record crowds which witnessed morning and afternoon contests at Broad Street Park to stave off two defeats. The first went to the visitors by 5 to 2, and the second went ten slow rounds to a 4-4 score.

A dozen different reasons might be given for the loss of the first. Suffice it to mention only that errors, inability to connect with Kline at opportune moments and sleepy work on the part of the locals, together with real baseball by the visitors were partly responsible. Details are given below. The second game should have gone to Richmond, but transportation by still, an error by Reeve, and twelve hits, four of which were two-sackers, and the most sensational one-hand catch that has ever been witnessed on the local field by Hooker tells why the Colts failed to land the prize.

When Kirkpatrick came up in the second he was presented with two boxes of cheers by a member of the cigar-makers union. In the eighth still was also the recipient of one box for his three-bagger.

The first game was a hard one to lose, and had it not been for the listless exhibition put up by the locals on one or two occasions, Southpaw Salve would have pulled out a victory which was his just desert for handing out only five scattered hits. Only in the first round did two bingles come together, and together with a choice they tallied one and one.

While errors and sleepy-headed playing were mainly responsible for Richmond's defeat, inability to land on Kline's shots aided materially. Like the visitors, he was touched for two consecutive singles in but one round, the sixth, when the Colts crossed the pan on Heffron's single, his steal to third a moment after George Cowan had followed suit, and O'Neil's out to first. Kirkpatrick was responsible for the other runs. With Heffron Kline, Kirkpatrick and a good three-sacker to the center-field fence. Here it was that Happy Eckstone proved his assertion that he hadn't slept any coming here on the train by shooting Kirk on to home and certain death, which Catcher Evans inflicted with great force and enthusiasm.

The only other feature worthy of mention was a beautiful catch by Bowen, who stalked liner off O'Neil's bat that should easily have been a hit. Bowen went on a dead run after the ball, and though he fell as he captured it and rolled over several times, he clung to the leather. An instance of Richmond's sleepy work occurred in the seventh. Bowen, who had been on, where he had been sacrificed by McKenna. Hooker leaned against one that Salve handed him, and it screamed through the twirler's hands, coming high into the air. O'Neil got under it, and instead of touching second he threw to Shafer, who, seeing Bowen going home, also lost his head and heaved to Walsh. Then even reliable Reddy ran amuck and threw to Kirkpatrick. Reeve managed to get the third-baseman to throw to him, and not until after the shortstop touched the second liner off any of them could he know why he did it. It did no harm, but was a good example of how every one seemed both mind and leg-weary. The score:

Table with 5 columns: Players, A.B.R.H.O.A.E. Rows include Bowen, McKenna, Hooker, Heffron, Anthony, Holt, Kirkpatrick, O'Neil, Shafer, Kline.

In the second Richmond showed a great deal more life than in the morning affray. Reeve and Hinton figured in a fast double play, which cut a man off at the plate. Besides this, three other runners expired at the plate and two had their lives summarily snuffed out at third. In the seventh Shafer was caught by many to have misread O'Neil's handling of Bentley's drive, but Umpire Truby stated that Bentley had beaten out the throw, so it was therefore not an error. Taking the lead in the first inning on Titman's hit, Reeve's perfect sacrifice and Heffron's out, all of which helped in putting the first run over the fence. It looked for three seasons like Shafer's benchmen were able to take a fall out of Grim's bunch. In the fourth, however, Lynchburg went to the front with two tallies on three hits, a suicide and two bases on balls. Richmond came back strong in the sixth, and when Stewart took an ascension made the fleeting moments count by scoring three.

It is little wonder that Stewart arose. It is even more wonderful that he ever came down, for still led off in this inning with a slashing three-timer to deep right, which might have counted on the circuit had not the Colonel been so unused to traveling the route that he forgot the way. The time lost in finding first was too much, and he had to be satisfied with the third bag. Titman got one in the head and walked, and a single by Stewart took an ascension made the fleeting moments count by scoring three.

Hooker's Magnificent Catch. Then it was that Hooker saved the day by robbing Kirkpatrick of a drive which went over the heads of the crowd in left-center, but which Hooker pulled in by turning his hand back, and reaching over the fence. It was certainly a great catch, and will long be remembered by the Richmond baseball lovers. Reeve scored on the throw in.

With the score 4 to 3 against them, in the opening of the ninth, Hooker defied to Anthony, Bentley got his third hit, Anthony fled to Titman and on Reeve's error, the slugging catcher crossed. The game went another inning, but neither could do anything, and when still hit pitched the ball in the beginning of the eleventh inning, Truby called it off on account of darkness. The score:

DANVILLE LOSES AND THEN WINS

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ROANOKE, Va., May 30.—Roanoke won the first game from Danville yesterday morning by 5 to 4, while Umpire Bryon won the second by 5 to 1. Evidence in the first game, Managers McKevitt and Clark and Smith came under his displeasure and were put out of the game, and Vernelle was fined for back talk. A wild throw by Hessler gave Danville her last run. The score:

The second game went to Danville by a score of 5 to 2. Both pitchers were hit hard, though Morrissey had the better of it. The very rambling umpiring by Byron greatly marred both the games of today. He was severely criticized by spectators and players. The score:

We pay special attention to ladies, on the premises on.

Auction Sales—Future Days

By N. W. Bowe & Son, Real Estate Auctioneers. EXECUTORS' SALE OF THAT MAGNIFICENT AND VERY VALUABLE SUBURBAN FARM ON THE HERMITAGE ROAD, KNOWN AS "ROSEWOOD," FOR A LONG TIME OCCUPIED BY THE LATE MRS. ROSINA U. MORDECAI.

Acting under the provisions of the will of the late Mrs. Rosina U. Mordecai, we will offer for sale, by public auction, on the premises on, at 5 P. M., that valuable and attractive property above referred to, containing 25.5 acres of land, together with plant and stock, and other improvements, including a three-story cottage. Among other notable features, not to speak of its accessibility to the city by a trolley line and trains of the R. F. & P. Railroad, are a beautiful and extensive grove of stately oaks crowning a situation unexcelled for natural beauty, and a lake, known as "Young's Pond," lying in full view of the city. A sold at this price. The greater portion of this tract of land is in wood and timber, which, on account of its nearness to the city, is sold at fine prices. There are also indications of the presence of large deposits of granite on the property.

The neighborhood is of the very best, being in close proximity to the handsome estate of the late Major Ginter, known as "Westbrook," and the elegant residences of Edmund Strudwick, Esq., Mrs. Byrd Warwick, Messrs. H. T. Meloney, C. B. Cooke and others; and it cannot be overestimated as a whole, this place has hardly an equal around the city of Richmond. The water-power has been lately sought by manufacturers for a mill, which can be put below the dam, and which would not detract in the least from the beauty of the place. A sold at the price. The greater portion of this tract of land is in wood and timber, which, on account of its nearness to the city, is sold at fine prices. There are also indications of the presence of large deposits of granite on the property.

TERMS: One-fourth cash, and the balance at one, two and three years for notes, with interest added, secured by a deed of trust, or all cash, at the option of the purchaser. J. JORDAN LEAKE, JOHN B. MORDECAI, Executors.

FOR SALE. An Economical Steamboat with a carrying capacity of 1,500 passengers, suitable for excursions or freight purposes. Will pass inspection at any time. Must be sold this week. No reasonable offer refused. DAVID MOORE, 1328 N. Y. Ave., Washington, D. C.

NEW WORLD'S AUTO MARK ESTABLISHED. WASHINGTON, May 30.—The world's automobile racing record for 100 miles on a circuit, was broken today, when Wallace C. Hood, of Baltimore, won over seven contestants in the century run at Benning, D. C., at the first national automobile meet, given under the auspices of the United States Motor Racing Association. Hood's time was two hours twelve minutes forty seconds. He drove a sixty-horse-power machine. The previous record was made by Rogers, of Racine, Wis., who made the same distance in two hours eighteen minutes in a contest in Chicago about a year ago.

Manchester Blues Win. The Laurel baseball team, minus several of its regular players, met its first defeat in two years yesterday at the hands of the fast Manchester Blues by 5 to 1. Jones, the laurel winner, pitched great ball. The work of Bechen, Allen, Allen's fast fielder, and Taylor, a fast pitcher for Laurel, was another feature. Catcher Ford, of the Laurel team, brought forth much applause, even from his opponents. The game was behind the bat. Five Bluebirds in succession were nailed at second by his wonderful arm.
